Education

I have offered office hours and mentorship to startups asking for advice in engineering, architecture, hiring, legal, and many other areas. Bell Biosystems is my all time favorite mentorship, because I learned so much about biotech by taking the plunge and seeing how I could help.

Chris Millican
Senior Frontend Software
Engineer at Uber
February 8, 2020, Jan was senior to Chris but didn't manage directly

I hired Chris to do front end development work at Fatdoor, Inc. (later reorganized as The Dealmap and acquired by Google). Chris immediately exceeded expectations in our small startup by consistently completing tasks in under half the time we allotted for them and then solving several full stack problems for u... See more
